This includes new educational health promotion, service enrollment and Senior advocacy program opportunities so they can stay in, and contribute to, their community.

From the Director

Dear Ulster County Older Adults!

With the close of summer, the leaves will soon be showing their vibrant colors and before long will be crunching beneath our feet. And it's sweater season! My favorite! I do love the beach, but enough with the humidity and hotness!

October brings us our annual Human Services Fair (Trunk or Treat), where many of the local agencies join together to hand out a lot of candy and treats together with their important information. It is a great and fun way to learn about the various services in Ulster County. There's also a scary Bingo game scheduled in October! We are reminding you that the HEAP application has changed so if you qualify, please make sure you get the updated application. We will have them soon – as usual, the season opens early November.

Calling all people who love to drive! We have a job for you! You get mileage, and the supreme satisfaction of helping your neighbors and paying it forward for when YOU need a ride to the doctor's office. Just call me, and we can go from there. Background checks are part of the application process. We also need help with some simple computer work – nothing complicated – data entry and help in the office. We are always looking for volunteers to help us help the community.

We've got a Lunch and Learn where I will be presenting on Senior Fraud & Scams at the Olive Library, which the whole world needs to see, as well as a nice suspense movie at the Rosendale Theatre this month, besides our weekly and monthly offerings.

I am working on some special presentations coming up in the New Year, one offs, as they say, so stay tuned. We will be offering more driver safety classes as well. They are quite popular, and very helpful for all drivers, not to mention the 10% liability insurance for 3 years and reduction of points, if you have any.

Have a wonderful fall and stay warm!

Keep those fires burning!

Susan Koppenhaver, Director,
Ulster County Office for Aging

Healthy Meal Planning Tips

Follow these tips to get the most out of foods and beverages while meeting your nutrient needs and reducing the risk of disease. Simple adjustments can go a long way toward building a healthier eating pattern:

- Enjoy a variety of foods from each food group to help reduce the risk of developing diseases such as high blood pressure, diabetes, and heart disease. Choose foods with little to no added sugar, saturated fats, and sodium.
- To get enough protein throughout the day and maintain muscle, try adding seafood, dairy, or fortified soy products along with beans, peas, and lentils to your meals.
- Add sliced or chopped fruits and vegetables to meals and snacks. Look for pre-cut varieties if slicing and chopping are a challenge for you.
- Try foods fortified with vitamin B12, such as some cereals, or talk to your doctor about taking a B12 supplement.
- Reduce sodium intake by seasoning foods with herbs and citrus such as lemon juice.
- Drink plenty of water throughout the day to help stay hydrated and aid in the digestion of food and absorption of nutrients. Avoid sugary drinks.

It's never too late to learn some cooking skills or refresh those you might not have used in a while. Search online to find information on basic cooking techniques and recipes. Borrow cookbooks with simple recipes and instructions from your local library or try an adult education cooking course. TV cooking shows might be helpful, too, especially if they show you step by step how to prepare and cook foods. Some meal delivery systems also include step-by-step instructions and pre-portioned ingredients.

RECIPE CORNER

Quick and Easy Pumpkin Soup

1 can (15 oz) pure pumpkin puree
2 cups vegetable or chicken broth
1/2 cup heavy cream or coconut milk
1/4 tsp cinnamon
1/2 tsp garlic powder
1/4 tsp nutmeg
Salt and black pepper to taste

Heat the pumpkin, broth, cinnamon, and garlic spices in a medium pot over medium heat for 10 minutes. Stir in the cream and heat through for 5 more minutes. Season with salt and pepper, then serve warm with a sprinkle of nutmeg on top and with crusty bread.

DID YOU KNOW?

There are more than 70 streets in Atlanta with some variation of the name "Peachtree."

Healthy Fall Nutrition

Eating healthy in the fall is easy and fun with seasonal produce, whole grains, and hydration. Include in-season fruits and vegetables to meals, cooking with whole grains, and remember your water intake as the weather cools. Don't forget to spice things up! Cinnamon, Nutmeg, Garlic, Basil, and Oregano are some of the spices to give foods the fall taste and aroma.

Seasonal Produce

- Apples and Pears: Add crisp apple slices to oatmeal or mix fresh pears into leafy green salads for a boost of fiber and vitamins.
- Root Vegetables: Roast sweet potatoes, beets, and carrots with a bit of olive oil and herbs to bring out their natural, comforting sweetness. I love to add a sprinkle of nutmeg/cinnamon to a sweet potato.
- Squash and Pumpkin: Use butternut squash or pumpkin to make warm, soups rich in vitamins. Don't forget the pumpkin seeds on top of your bowl of soup.
- Cruciferous Greens: Broccoli, Cauliflower, and Brussels sprouts, which hold up well in the fridge and support bone and immune health.

Whole Grains and Healthy Fats

- Steel-Cut Oats and Barley: Warm up with hearty whole grains that provide lasting energy and fiber.
- Pumpkin Seeds: Roast for a crunchy snack or salad and soup topper.

Hydration

- Water and Hot Tea/Coffee: Do not forget to drink fluids just because it is cooler outside; dehydration is still common in dry autumn air. Warm coffee to start my day and a hot tea to end it is my pick. Remember the water all throughout your day.

After carving that Halloween Pumpkin, try Roasted Pumpkin Seeds! Toss clean pumpkin seeds with olive oil, salt, and everything bagel seasoning or chili powder. Bake at 300°F for 20 minutes until crunchy. Watch carefully as they can burn easily.

October is Healthy Lung Month

Every October, Healthy Lung Month emphasizes the importance of respiratory health and encourages proactive steps to support lung well-being.

Lungs are essential organs that oxygenate the blood and remove carbon dioxide, playing a critical role in overall well-being. During Healthy Lung Month, it is important to recognize conditions such as asthma, chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD), and lung cancer, which can significantly affect quality of life.

During Healthy Lung Month, it's important to prioritize respiratory health by being aware of early signs of lung issues.

Key symptoms to watch for include:

- Persistent cough
- Shortness of breath
- Wheezing
- Chest pain
- Fatigue

Consult a healthcare professional if you notice any of these symptoms.

Here are some tips from the American Lung Association to improve the health of your lungs.

1. Stop Smoking and Vaping. (Also avoid secondhand smoke). Quitting smoking is the fastest way to improve lung health. Cigarette smoke narrows air passages and makes breathing difficult. The longer someone smokes, the more it can cause chronic inflammation and swelling in the lungs. Smoking puts you at greater risk for lung cancer or COPD. Twenty-four hours after you quit smoking, your body begins to repair the damage, and the longer you resist a cigarette, the lower the risk.
2. Exercise. When you are physically active, the lungs and heart work harder and become stronger. Your body becomes more efficient at getting oxygen into the bloodstream and transporting it to the working muscles. Keep it up, and you will become less likely to get short of breath during exercise.
3. Eat Healthy! Stay hydrated. A balanced diet full of fruits, vegetables, whole grains, and legumes (Mediterranean) reduces inflammation and improves our immune system and microbiome. Our gut microbiome affects lung health. Dehydration makes the mucus thick and sticky, impairs respiration, and increases the risk of contracting an illness. Drink water!
4. Visit your healthcare provider regularly. Your healthcare provider should be the first to hear about any breathing problems you may be having. Don't wait until it is advanced.
5. Get vaccinated. This decreases the chance of contracting a respiratory disease like COVID-19, pneumococcal pneumonia, and RSV.
6. Avoid air pollution exposure both indoors and outdoors. Check your local air quality report. Dust regularly, change air filters, and keep your house smoke-free to improve indoor air.
7. Deep Breathe! It improves lung function and helps you manage stress.
